

We can help move your energy.

So we heard you're moving and you have a massive to-do list, we get that. This is just a friendly reminder not to forget about us. We hear lots of last-minute moving stories; below are a few tips to avoid becoming the next one.

It's not automatic

You wouldn't abandon your favourite couch, so why leave your electricity or natural gas plan behind? Schedule your transfer 30 days before your move and enjoy your services in your new place*.

One easy bill

With the exception of your junk drawer, having everything in one place is usually handier. ENMAX Energy can include your electricity and natural gas on the same bill.

Transferring is free

Just like your buddies with the pickup truck, moving your energy plan doesn't cost anything and we're happy to help you on the weekend.

Communication is key

Make sure your first meal isn't a romantic pizza delivery in the dark. Talk to your partner about who's handling the utility change.

Visit enmax.com/moving or give us a shout at 310-4010 and we will take one thing off your list.
