From ordering enough take-out for all your helpers to finding enough bubble wrap to protect those special items, moving can be a challenge.

Here are a few tips and suggestions to help things go smoother.

Stick a label on it.

Don't be shy, grab a marker – the thicker the better and name what each box contains – you'll thank yourself when you need to find that special photo or phone charger in a hurry.

Must-haves must have their own box.

Make sure to pack items you know you'll need at your new address – like a toothbrush, change of clothes or that special pillow, in an easily identified box.

A smarter use for your smart phone camera.

Between selfies of yourself in a box, take photos of how your stereo, TV and computers are wired, so it's easier to reconnect them when you move in.
